

Let Love Settle In

By Glenn

There it is - first light - the debut of dawn another first - soft rays of a new day fresh dew settling and cooling the lawn the dew and irrepressible light make way to this browning patch of earth another prelude in my eyes a gentle affirmation of life's worth in this glistening silver sunrise.

This freshness prods my lethargy and is easy for me to take but do I have the kind of energy to allow a love without break unconditional and pure I wonder if I have it in me to let such a love endure to settle into me like dew - light and free.
