Dreaming Again

By Glenn Currier

Now I can float with you on dreams of possibilities daring to hope again for a season of light.
We are partners of the universe
in flight
not fright.

Dreams are made of possibilities not of economics or hands and bare-boned probabilities but of living tissue of heart.

Author's Note: I bow to and send thoughts and prayers of gratitude to Cne for her poem, "It's Good to Dream" on her page on the website HelloPoetry.com. Here is her page: https://hellopoetry.com/livandletliv/poems/

"Dreaming Again," Copyright 2020 by Glenn Currier
Written 11-11-20