

New Tick-tocker

By Glenn Currier

Got me a new tick-tocker
From the good heart doctor
I got rhythm all the time
And even an occasional rhyme
The medical peeps came through
Prayers from friends and kin were true
Tonight God and Helen drove me home
A good place to end this little pome.

Written 9-19-17 waiting in Tom Thumb parking lot for Helen to do some shopping – the day after my pacemaker surgery
