

Green Glory

By Glenn Currier

Outside life is in its green glory springs and explodes with gusto.
Trees and plants shout with joy irrepressible energy pulls us forward leaps ahead from my dust and darkness and takes me into sky from my fright transforms my darkness into light I thank you life for appearing in my night.
It is in this mixture of shadows and sun that you appear most awesome overflowing running over the fearful edge of my soul.
