

On the Fringe

By Glenn Currier

Sometimes I am still in high school feeling alone like a fool on the margins an arm's length away a nobody with nothing to say just out of pace chosen last for one side in a game but I graduated moved into the world to find my place but at times I get in a clinch and still feel on the fringe.
