

Waking in Fog

By Glenn Currier

I woke this morning from a dream left in a brief fog of unease just on the misty edge of anxiety then I remembered

I am wrapped in a great mystery in the heart of the world and humanity in a sacred space
and a promise of which I am heir

And now in the first light of dawn I am caught in the spawn of life
to be transformed into joy
and beauty
