

Unspoiled

By Glenn Currier

Look at the moon in a telescope how pristine and awesome it appears to us here on this spoiled planet polluted and darkened by fears of human egos run wild.

The light of the moon brings a smile Mama used to say: look at the man in the moon but the moon is without guile virus updates and bad news.
May some particle of wonder keep us whole and awaken the muse.
